

Accelerating Insights Through Knowledge Sharing

Addressing knowledge gaps and the white space that's created by ineffective knowledge management is a significant challenge faced by organizations, of all sizes, across the life sciences industry. SharePoint is one option that can help close the gap.

Challenges

- SharePoint is often only used as a document dump or it's over-used and over-complicated
- Sites are over-controlled by 1 person/function rather than leveraged as a collaboration tool
- The life sciences industry has a negative perception of SharePoint because it's an unregulated space

57%

of employees unable to find information

49%

of employees spend up to 2 hrs tracking information

Solution

RN can quickly design, develop, and implement a secure and structured space that allows your stakeholders to collect and share meaningful knowledge for your business.
